Biographical Note

A native of Ford City, Pennsylvania – Albert R. Pechan (May 13, 1902-September 11, 1969) was a Republican Pennsylvania State Senator from Ford City. In 1928, he graduated from the University of Pittsburgh, School of Dental Medicine. He served in the Pennsylvania State Senate from January 1949 to September 11, 1969. He was preceded in office by Jacob W. Carr. Senator Pechan was an active supporter of Indiana State College (which became IUP) during the 1960s. He served on the Board of Trustees for more than two decades. As a State Senator, Albert Pechan was instrumental in passage of the bill, which transformed Indiana State College (ISC) into Indiana University of Pennsylvania

(IUP). Senator Pechan represented the counties of Armstrong, Butler, Clarion, Jefferson, and Indiana in Western Pennsylvania.

After his death in office on September 11, 1969, Senator Albert R. Pechan was succeeded in office by Patrick J. Stapleton, Jr. (January 7, 1924-March 13, 2001) who also served on the Board of Trustees for Indiana University of Pennsylvania (IUP), and the Patrick J. Stapleton, Jr. Library at IUP was named in his honor in 1980-1981. For more information about Patrick J. Stapleton, Jr. see Manuscript Group 158.

Scope and Content Note

The Albert Pechan Collection is housed in six archival boxes including scrapbooks from his time in office (1949-1969). These papers include a small portion of his office files and correspondence from his tenure as Pennsylvania State Senator. These files include legislation and correspondence from the 1960s, and documents relating to the transition of Indiana State College to become Indiana University of Pennsylvania (IUP) and university status (see Manuscript Group 134: Louise Bem) in 1964-1966. The scrapbooks mostly contain newspaper articles and documents related to specific years, including Pennsylvania elections (1940-1968).

Provenance
