Biographical Note

Roy E. Furman (April 16, 1901-May 18, 1977) was a native of Davidson, Greene County, Pennsylvania. He was elected as a Democrat representing Greene County to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in 1933 and served four terms until November 30, 1940. He was the 129th Speaker of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives from March 14, 1936-November 30, 1938 under Governor George Howard Earle (1890-1974). Roy Furman served as Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania from January 1955-1959 under Governor Michael Leader (1918-2013). In 1959, Furman ran for the Democratic nomination for Pennsylvania Governor, but he was defeated by David Lawrence, who later appointed Furman to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. Roy Furman retired to New Cumberland, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania.
