NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-FIVE

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O Say! Can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night, that our flag was still there.

O, say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

ALMA MATER

TO OUR NOBLE ALMA MATER'S NAME
WE, HER CHILDREN, SING A JOYFUL LAY
AND TO HER A NEW ALLEGIANCE PLEDGE, THAT LIVES BEYOND A DAY.

REFRAIN: Sing, O Sing, Our Alma Mater's Praise,
Hail, O Hail, her colors' gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.

DISTINGUISHED FACULTY AWARDS

FOR TEACHING

The mission of IUP is to teach, and it is because of the quality and dedication of the IUP faculty that the University has received national and international acclaim. In appreciation of outstanding teaching ability, IUP recognizes a faculty member through the presentation of this award.

Past recipients of this award include: Robert J. Stonebraker, 1977; Mohammed E. Ghobashy, 1978; Irwin Marcus, 1979; Frank Viggiano Jr. and Mark A. Plivelic, 1980; Robert A. Patsiga, 1982; Ronald M. Weiers, 1983; and Howard E. Tompkins, 1984.

FOR RESEARCH

In addition to the IUP faculty's dedication to teaching, many faculty members share their expertise with colleagues and students and enhance the world of knowledge through research. These research endeavors frequently culminate in the publication of scholarly articles and books which reflect favorably both on the individual faculty member and the University. It is for these scholarly contributions and for the institutional recognition they invoke that IUP annually considers candidates for the Distinguished Faculty Award for Research.

Past recipients of this award include: Don-chean Chu, 1977; Joseph C. Clark, 1978; Vincent Miller, 1979; June K. Phillips, 1980; W. Wayne Smith, 1981; Arthur C. Hulse, 1982; Martin J. Morand, 1983; and Donald A. Walker, 1984.

FOR CREATIVE ARTS

There are many avenues for scholarly or learned expression, and the creative arts provide, perhaps, the most visible of these avenues. Through public performances and exhibitions, IUP faculty have brought acclaim and recognition to the University as well as to their particular media. In addition, this excellence in the arts has established IUP as a regional cultural center dedicated to the support of the arts. It is for this dedication to quality in the arts that the University annually considers candidates for this award.

Past recipients of this award include: Charles E. Battaglini, 1977; Ned O. Wert, 1978; Thomas J. Dongilla, 1980; Paul Ben-Zvi, 1981; Christopher L. Weiland, 1982; Ronald A. Juliette, 1983; and John J. Dropcho, 1984.

FOR COMMUNITY SERVICE

Today's ceremonies will mark the fourth presentation of the Community Service Award. IUP recognizes that members of the University community extend their expertise beyond the campus and that such sharing of resources is essential to personal and community growth. Based on a broad concept of community which includes the University community, the local geographic area and the larger academic and professional organizations, service may be in the faculty member's area of academic expertise or in other areas related to professional responsibilities. Community Service Awards were presented to Isadore R. Lenglet in 1982, to John E. Merryman in 1983, and to Richard D. Magee in 1984.

IUP

From the 1875 Indiana Normal School to today's multi-purpose University, IUP has enjoyed a history rich in tradition and accomplishment. In its first year, the Normal School enrolled 225 students. Today, the IUP student body includes more than 12,000 students who hail from every county in the Commonwealth, several other states, and more than 40 foreign countries.

IUP grew out of the need for a teacher-training institution in Pennsylvania and was created by an act of the General Assembly in 1871 which established the Indiana Normal School in the Ninth Pennsylvania District.

Since the first building was opened for students in 1875, IUP has matriculated approximately 100,000 students. Since becoming a degree-granting institution in 1927, it has conferred 85,053 degrees.

Ownership and control of the institution passed to the Commonwealth in 1920. In 1927 the General Assembly approved a change in name and function of the school. As the State Teacher's College at Indiana, it became a four-year college with the right to grant Bachelor of Science degrees in Education.

In 1957 the College was authorized to offer, for the first time, work leading to the Master of Education degree in elementary education. Today the Graduate School offers 35 programs and currently enrolls 591 students.

In 1959 the name of the College was changed to Indiana State College and a liberal arts program was developed, graduating its first students in January, 1964. More than one-quarter of the University's students now major in the areas of humanities, natural sciences, social sciences and mathematics.

The first off-campus center was established in September, 1962, at Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, and the following year a second center was opened at Kittanning.

In December, 1965, Indiana State College was redesignated Indiana University of Pennsylvania with the right to grant degrees at the doctoral level and in several additional areas at the master's level.

Nine schools and colleges presently comprise the University -Business, Education, Fine Arts, Health Services, Home Economics, Humanities and Social Sciences, Natural Sciences and Mathematics, Graduate Studies, and Continuing and Non-resident Education. Twelve degrees are offered, including one associate, five baccalaureate, four master's, and four at the doctoral level. Within the 40 departments of the University, students may study any one of 100 majors.

While instruction continues to be the University's primary focus, IUP has combined a sound liberal arts education with effective job preparation. The University's internship program, which provides students with on-the-job training prior to graduation, is one of the most extensive in the country.

IUP has also entered into joint programs with other institutions of higher learning to increase and complement the academic programs of IUP students. These joint programs include one in family medicine with Thomas Jefferson University; two in engineering with Drexel University and the University of Pittsburgh; one in art with the Art Institute of Pittsburgh; one in optometry with Pennsylvania College of Optometry; one in podiatry with Pennsylvania School of Podiatry; and one in forestry with Duke University.

Throughout its first century, IUP has flourished as the largest of the 14 state-owned universities. The University looks forward to the challenges of the future with confidence in its tradition of excellence and with dedication to serving the needs of tomorrow's students.

Indiana University of Pennsylvania is committed to providing leadership in taking affirmative action to attain equal educational and employment rights for all persons, without regard to race, religion, national origin, ancestry, sex, physical handicap, or affectional or lifestyle preference. This policy is placed in this document in accordance with state and federal laws including Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as well as federal and state executive orders. This policy extends to disabled veterans and veterans of the Vietnam era. Please direct inquiries concerning equal opportunity to: Assistant Provost, 215A Sutton Hall, Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Indiana, PA 15705.

CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES

Asterisks denote graduation with honor as follows:

Summa Cum Laude 3.75 to 4.00 average

Magna Cum Laude 3.50 to 3.74 average

*Cum Laude 3.25 to 3.49 average

August and December graduation honors are final, and are based upon the cumulative grade point average after conclusion of the student's last semester.

May graduation honors are tentative, and are based upon the cumulative grade point average after conclusion of the student's next-to-last semester. Final honors for these graduates will be noted after final cumulative grade point averages have been calculated.

Averages are determined on the basis of the following: 4=A; 3=B; 2=C.

The appearance of a name on this program is not a valid indication of graduation. The diploma of the University and an official transcript, signed and sealed by the proper officers, provide authentic testimony to the conferring of a degree.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

American academic dress has its origins in the garments worn at medieval British universities, particularly Oxford. That university was founded in the Twelfth Century with its early chancellors being representatives of the bishop. Because of the close connection between the University and the Church, students and faculty wore clerical garb. It is from these medieval cassock-like garments that American academic dress is derived.

The Oxford or "mortarboard" cap came into use during the 16th century, but authorities differ on its origin. Some say that the cap is square like a scholar's books; others that it was derived from the master workman's mortarboard; still others suggest that it was patterned after the quadrangular shape of the Oxford campus. The distinguishing feature of the cap is the color of the tassel, which is black for the holders of the bachelor's and master's degrees and which may be gold for doctor's degrees and the governing officers of educational institutions.

Although caps and gowns had been used in many American schools since Colonial time, it was not until about 1855 that there was a widespread student movement for their use at commencement ceremonies. The faculties were quick to approve this practical and dignified graduation dress, and soon adopted for themselves the custom of wearing gowns at academic ceremonies. By 1895 the Intercollegiate Commission had prepared a code for academic costume which was approved by 95 percent of the American universities and colleges.

The Code provides for three types of gowns. Those worn by the bachelors are black and have long pointed sleeves. Masters may wear either black silk or woolen gowns, made with a long closed sleeve with an arc appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm. The doctor's gowns are usually of black silk with full, round, open sleeves. The color of the velvet trim may be black or the same color as the velvet which edges the hood. Although the color is normally black, several institutions have authorized doctoral gowns in their school colors.

In the United States, the hood is the most distinctive feature of academic attire. Used originally as a cowl, as a shoulder cape, and as a container in which to collect alms, it is now worn at the back, suspended near the shoulders. The length of the hood and the width of its velvet border indicate level of the degree held. The bachelors wear a hood which is three feet long, with a two inch velvet border. The hood for the master's degree is three and one-half feet long, with a three-inch border. The doctor's hood is four feet long and the border is five inches wide. The inner lining of the hood is in the official color or colors of the institution conferring the degree, while the color of the border indicates the field of learning in which the degree was earned.

It may be noted that military uniforms and religious habits are appropriate apparel at academic convocations.

HAZEL W. JOHNSON-BROWN, COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Dr. Hazel W. Johnson-Brown, the first black woman general in the history of the U.S. military, is the 1985 commencement speaker. At the time of her Army retirement in 1983, she had achieved the rank of brigadier general.

Johnson-Brown is currently director, Division of Governmental Affairs, American Nurses' Association, Inc., in Washington, D.C. She is also an assistant professor in the graduate program of nursing administration at Georgetown University.

In May, 1979, Johnson-Brown, who joined the Army Nurse Corps in 1955, was selected chief of the corps, becoming the fourth chief to hold the rank of brigadier general. Prior to that she served as director of the Walter Reed Army Institute of Nursing and as senior ranking U.S. military nurse in South Korea.

Upon retirement from active duty, she received the Distinguished Service Medal, the highest peacetime award for noncombatants in the Army.

Johnson-Brown has been the recipient of numerous awards, including the Army Commendation Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Meritorious Service Medal, and the Legion of Merit. In 1984, she was recognized by two leading national organizations of women: the National Institute for Women of Color and the National Coalition of 100 Black Women.

The general is listed in Who's Who Among Black Americans and in Who's Who Among American Women.

Johnson-Brown received a bachelor's degree in nursing from Villanova University, a master's degree in nursing education from Teacher's College, Columbia University, and a doctorate in educational administration from Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

In addition to these degrees, the general holds honorary degrees from Morgan State University in Baltimore, Villanova University, and the University of Maryland.

She is married to David B. Brown of Virginia.

MALCOLM COWLEY, HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Malcolm Cowley, poet, editor, literary critic, and historian, will receive the Doctor of Letters Honoris Causa at IUP commencement exercises today.

Cowley is being recognized for his literary achievements of national and international significance.

A native of Belsano, Pa., Cowley is a member of the "Lost Generation of Writers." Gertrude Stein attached the name to the writers and artists popular during World War I and World War II who were disenfranchised by the shock of the wars. Following the wars, Cowley formed friendships with many of his peers, including Ernest Hemingway, F. Scott Fitzgerald, and William Faulkner, who also attained wide recognition for their literary works.

Among his major works are Exiles Return, 1934; After the Genteel Tradition, 1937; The Literary Situation, 1954; Black Cargo, 1962; A Many Windowed House, 1970; and his most recent work, The Flower and the Leaf: A Contemporary Record of American Writing since 1941, which was published in January.

In his role as editor, essayist, and reviewer, he has promoted the value of literature for six decades, most notably as literary editor for the New Republic from 1929 to 1949. Cowley was president of the National Institute of Arts and Letters from 1956 to 1959 and again from 1962 to 1965 and has been literary advisor to the Viking Press since 1967.

Among his many awards and honors were the Levinson Prize in 1927 and the Harriet Monroe Memorial Prize in 1939. He also has been a recipient of grants from the National Institute of Arts and Letters and from the National Endowment for the Arts and holds honorary doctorates from Franklin and Marshall College, Colby College, the University of Warwick, and the University of New Haven.

Although his education was interrupted by his service in World War I, he graduated cum laude from Harvard in 1920.

Born August 24, 1898, Cowley is a graduate of Peabody High School in Pittsburgh.
