

COMMENCEMENT

1 9 9 3

Welcome

The IUP community extends a warm welcome to the families and friends of the very distinguished graduating class. Over the past several years the class members have worked and studied and are now ready to begin a new chapter in their lives. For some, this will mean a job and the responsibilities of a family. For others, it will mean graduate or professional school. Whatever course their future takes, it is our sincere hope that they will look back on their years here as having prepared them to meet and deal with the challenges that life will present.

In today's ceremony, more than one thousand undergraduate and graduate students are being recognized for their academic achievement. The university joins the graduates' parents, spouses, relatives, and friends in congratulating the graduates on their accomplishments and wishing for them the happiness of a productive life, the respect of their fellow human beings, and the love of their family.

Best of luck and congratulations.

The Star-Spangled Banner

O Say! Can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night, that our flag was still there.

O, say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Alma Mater

To our noble Alma Mater's name
We, her children, sing a joyful lay
And to her a new allegiance pledge,
That lives beyond a day.

Refrain: Sing, O Sing, Our Alma Mater's praise,
Hail, O Hail, her colors' gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.

 Graduates, guests, and faculty are requested to join in the singing of the National Anthem and Alma Mater.

Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence K. Pettit invite all graduates and guests to a reception in the Blue Room, John Sutton Hall, immediately following the ceremony.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Robert P. Bozzone

Robert P. Bozzone is president and chief executive officer of Allegheny Ludlum Corporation. Bozzone was president and chief operating officer of Allegheny Ludlum from 1985 until his promotion to CEO in 1990. Prior to that, he was executive vice president and general manager of the company.

Bozzone began his career at Allegheny Ludlum as a metallurgist in 1955. He served as supervising metallurgist for special metals at the Leechburg Works, as assistant to the works manager of West Leechburg Works of Allegheny Ludlum Steel, and as assistant division manager for production control.

A graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Bozzone is a past chairman of the IUP College of Business Advisory Council. He is also a member of the advisory board of Penn State-New Kensington and the Salvation Army Advisory Board and is a board member of the Allegheny Trails Boy Scouts of America. He is also a director of the Duquesne Light Company and a member of the Advisory Board of the Electric Power Research Institute. He is a member of the Executive Committee of the Specialty Steel Industry of the United States. He is co-chairman of the capital campaign for QED Communications and is a trustee of QED Communications. Bozzone is a member of the United Way's Alexis de Tocqueville Society, has served on the campaign cabinet for the United Way of Southwestern Pennsylvania, was twice chairman of the United Way's Major Employer "A" division, and served as the 1990 Pilot Program chairman.

In Executive Report magazine (December, 1990), Bozzone's corporation earned first place in Pittsburgh's Top 10 growth companies. Allegheny Ludlum led the way with an earnings-per-share growth rate of 53.9 percent. In 1991, he received the Wall Street Transcript Chief Executive Officer Award (Steel Industry) in recognition of outstanding achievement as a CEO. In 1992, Bozzone received Financial World magazine's CEO of the Year Award in recognition of executive excellence and outstanding corporate leadership.

The Glens Falls, New York, native and his wife, Irene, reside in Lower Burrell and have three children.

In recognition of his outstanding and distinguished accomplishments in business and his dedicated service to humanity and the university, Robert P. Bozzone is nominated to receive an honorary doctorate from Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Candidates for Degrees

Asterisks denote graduation with honors as follows:

-  Summa Cum Laude 3.75 to 4.00
-  Magna Cum Laude 3.50 to 3.74
- * Cum Laude 3.25 to 3.49

Graduation honors are tentative and are based upon the cumulative grade-point average after conclusion of the student's next-to-last semester. Final honors for these graduates will be noted after final cumulative grade-point averages have been calculated.

Averages are determined on the basis of the following: 4=A; 3=B; 2=C.

The appearance of a name on this program is not a valid indication of graduation. The diploma of the university and an official transcript, signed and sealed by the proper officers, provide authentic testimony to the conferring of a degree.

A Diverse University, Dedicated to Its Students

When it opened in May, 1875, Indiana was a normal school with 225 students in a single building. In April, 1920, control and ownership passed to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Seven years later, by authority of the General Assembly, the State Normal School became a college, with the right to grant degrees, and the name was changed to the State Teachers College at Indiana, Pennsylvania.

In 1959, the legislature approved a change of name to Indiana State College. Rapid growth followed during the 1960s in the liberal arts and graduate programs, culminating in the achievement of university status. In December, 1965, a bill was signed in Harrisburg creating Indiana University of Pennsylvania as the commonwealth's first state-owned university.

With more than fourteen thousand students, IUP is the fifth largest university in a state that boasts more colleges and universities than nearly any other. With three campuses located in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains, IUP is one of fourteen member institutions of the State System of Higher Education.

In forty-five academic departments located within six colleges and two schools, IUP offers more than a hundred major fields of study. Graduate programs in many professional and applied areas are available, as well as six programs at the doctoral level. IUP's internship program is the commonwealth's largest, providing students with on-the-job experience to supplement their classroom learning.

Throughout the history of IUP, the values that have shaped the institution have been of primary importance. These values have been elucidated in the following statement, adopted by the University Community Council in September, 1990:

Indiana University of Pennsylvania is dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and to teaching students how to live and how to make a living, while fostering citizenship. This institution is committed to engendering the spirit of community among its faculty, students, and staff. Programs and policies shall be formulated based on respect for culture, race, sexual lifestyle, gender, and age diversity in a manner that provides respect for excellence in human character, for intellectual dissent, and for the privacy and dignity of the individual.

It is recognized that each person has unique needs and abilities and should be valued. Likewise, each person has a role to play in the university community and should do so with excellence. In an atmosphere of mutual respect, individuals should be encouraged to perform their roles in a manner consistent with both their own interests and the interests of the community.

The State System of Higher Education

Since its creation on July 1, 1983, the State System of Higher Education has developed a reputation for service, achievement, and vision. Strong student demand for the academic offerings at the fourteen public universities in the State System is evidenced by the growth in head count enrollment to 99,850 for 1992, an increase of .8 percent (768 students) over the previous year. As the twenty-first century approaches, the State System universities are working to fulfill their potential as one of the largest human resource development infrastructures in the commonwealth.

The Symbols of Learning

Participants in the commencement procession are attired in regalia that reflects a history and heritage that can be traced to the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries. Modern academic regalia evolved from the kinds of apparel worn by monks and students in the Middle Ages to keep warm in the medieval castles and halls in which they studied.

Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages, first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, and the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master; their dress was the outward sign of stature and responsibility. Academic regalia was thus a visible manifestation—in color and pattern and design—that unified those of common discipline and like purpose.

In later centuries, to preserve the regalia's dignity and meaning, universities set rules of academic dress. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895 establishing a code of approved attire. In 1932 the American Council on Education revised this code, which, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today. The principal features of academic dress are three: the gown, the cap, and the hood.

The Gown. The flowing gown dates to the twelfth century. Many think it was worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing. It is (with a few institutional exceptions) black for all degrees. Pointed sleeves indicate the bachelor's degree; long closed sleeves with a slit in the arm, the master's degree; and round open sleeves, the doctor's degree. The gown for bachelor's or master's degrees has no trimmings; the gown for the doctorate degree is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves, in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline to which the degree pertains.

The official colors of the college may also appear in the gown or its decorations. The trustees and administrators of IUP wear gowns of slate trimmed in crimson velvet.

The Cap. The freed slave in ancient Rome won the privilege of wearing a cap, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square symbolizing the book, although other authorities claim that it is a mortar board, the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. The color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline.

The Hood. In regalia, the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the university or college from which the degree was granted.

The Mace is a ceremonial staff carried by the chief university marshal, who is the most senior faculty member. The chief university marshal opens and closes all academic convocations, such as Honors Convocation and Commencement. Artist and metalsmith Dr. Walter J. Kipp designed and constructed the mace for IUP in 1967. The design was created around the state seal, which was placed at the top of the mace. The large keystone which comes next symbolizes the state emblem, and on this keystone the letters IUP are placed. The handturned shaft is made of native Pennsylvania walnut.

The President's Medallion was designed and crafted by Dr. Kipp for the inauguration of IUP's fifteenth president. The medallion symbolizes Sutton Hall, Fisher Auditorium, and the Planetarium; an oak leaf which overlays an oval at the base of the medallion signifies the Oak Grove. The dates of the institution's founding and the attainment of state college and university status are engraved on the piece. The medallion and chain are embellished with semiprecious stones.
