COMMENCEMENT

WELCOME

The IUP community extends a warm welcome to the families and friends of a very distinguished graduating class. Over the past several years the class members have worked and studied and are now ready to begin a new chapter in their lives. For some, this will mean a job and the responsibilities of a family. For others, it will mean graduate or professional school. Whatever course their future takes, we hope that our graduates will look back on their years here as having prepared them to meet and deal with the challenges that life will present.

In today's ceremonies, we recognize nearly one thousand undergraduate and graduate students for their academic achievement. The university joins parents, spouses, relatives, and friends in congratulating the graduates on their accomplishments and in wishing for them the happiness of a productive life, the respect of their fellow human beings, and the love of their families.

Best of luck and congratulations.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O Say! Can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night, that our flag was still there.

O, say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

ALMA MATER

To our noble Alma Mater's name
We, her children, sing a joyful lay
And to her a new allegiance pledge,
That lives beyond a day.

Refrain: Sing, O Sing, Our Alma Mater's praise,
Hail, O Hail, her colors' gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.

JACK WAGNER, MASTER'S AND DOCTORAL PROGRAM SPEAKER

Sworn into office on January 20, 2009, for his second term as Pennsylvania's fiftieth elected auditor general, Jack Wagner brought twenty-five years of public service to his role as the commonwealth's independent fiscal watchdog.

Before he was elected to his current post, Auditor General Wagner had represented Allegheny County as a State Senator since May 1994. He served in the leadership of the State Senate and as the Democratic chairman of the Senate Banking and Insurance Committee.

Auditor General Wagner was a member of Pittsburgh City Council for ten years, representing all city neighborhoods, and was council president from 1990 to 1993. He was born and reared in the city's Beechview neighborhood.

After graduating from Pittsburgh's South Hills High School, he was employed by Duquesne Light Company and belonged to the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers for five years.

In 1966, he enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps and served until 1968. He received a Purple Heart and other military commendations during his service in the Vietnam War.

Auditor General Wagner graduated from IUP with a degree in Safety Management in 1974. While a student at IUP, he worked as a paramedic with Citizens Ambulance Service. In 1994, he received IUP's Distinguished Alumni Award for service to the community and university.

He and his wife, Nancy, make their home in Beechview with their children, Luke and Sara.

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT WERNER

To the Degree Recipients,

Today may not seem nearly as important to you as it does to the family members and friends who have come to watch you graduate. You may even wonder why you have to go through this ceremony—after you've spent years working on the degree you're receiving. Wasn't that enough?

This Commencement ceremony puts the finishing touch on your IUP experience. It marks a passage and recognizes your success. Celebrating your graduation is like celebrating your birthday: Just as you move from one age to the next, today you move from one phase of your life to the next.

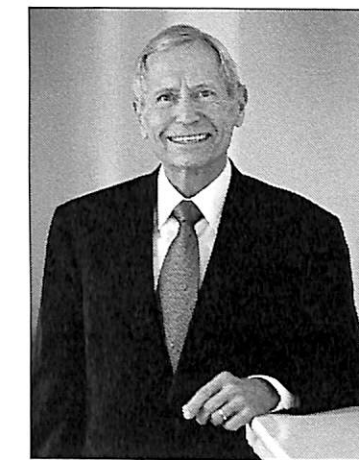

You'll be surprised at what you'll take along with you. Some things you think you'll always remember, you may soon forget. What will stay in your memory longest may be a particular faculty member. Years from now, you may still recall a lecture that person gave or a comment he or she wrote on one of your papers.

I can predict these memories with confidence, not just because I've been where you are today, but because I read alumni magazines. I see the letters and reminiscences that graduates contribute. Sometimes, they refer in detail to lectures that were given fifty or sixty years ago. Imagine!

Even though you may have absorbed the contents of myriad textbooks or performed any number of laboratory experiments, it is the human interaction you'll likely carry with you—perhaps as long as you live. While faculty members have been teaching you their subjects, they've also been teaching you how to look at the world. "A teacher affects eternity," Henry Adams wrote, "he can never tell where his influence stops."

Congratulations on your achievement. Enjoy today, and enjoy your memories.

David Werner
Interim President

BEN RAFOTH, UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM SPEAKER

Ben Rafoth is IUP's 2010-11 University Professor, an honor that was accorded him in recognition of his outstanding record of teaching, scholarship, and service.

Dr. Rafoth teaches undergraduate and graduate courses in the English Department. He joined the IUP faculty in 1987 and has held several positions, including director of the IUP Writing Center since 1988, interim dean of Libraries, and director of Graduate Studies in Composition and TESOL. He has directed over thirty doctoral dissertations and has been a keynote speaker at national and international conferences.

Generous in sharing his scholarly expertise, Dr. Rafoth has presented papers with many IUP graduate and undergraduate students. In recognition of his "many years of support for graduate student research in writing centers and the teaching of writing," the International Writing Centers Association established the Ben Rafoth Graduate Student Research Award.

Dr. Rafoth has been the author or coauthor of four books and thirty-three articles and book chapters and has received more than $380,000 in grant funding. He received his bachelor's degree in English from Miami University of Ohio and his master's degree in linguistics and his doctorate in language education from the University of Georgia. He is married to Mary Ann Rafoth, dean of IUP's College of Education and Educational Technology. The Rafoths are parents of two college-age children, Henry and Paige.

Indiana University of Pennsylvania was established in 1875 and is the largest and only doctoral research university in the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education. IUP has a long tradition of academic excellence and receives frequent accolades, including designation as one of The Best 373 Colleges in the 2011 edition of a Princeton Review book by that name. The university provides an intellectually challenging experience to fifteen thousand students at three campuses, all easily accessible from Pittsburgh and the Middle Atlantic region.

Academic offerings include more than one hundred thirty undergraduate programs with a variety of internship and study abroad programs, and more than fifty master's degree programs, and ten doctoral degrees. Unusual opportunities for research at all levels and the Robert E. Cook Honors College provide special challenges for academic growth. The variety and quality of instruction are characteristic of a big university, yet at IUP, close, one-to-one relationships develop within the teaching framework, and a strong sense of community prevails.

Indiana University of Pennsylvania is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity.

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE SYSTEM OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Since its creation on July 1, 1983, the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education has developed a reputation for service, achievement, and vision. Strong student demand for the academic offerings at the fourteen public universities in the State System is evidenced by the growth in head count enrollment to nearly 117,000 for 2010-2011. The State System universities are working to fulfill their potential as one of the largest human resource development infrastructures in the commonwealth.

THE RECESSIONAL

"Ode to Joy"Ludwig von Beethoven

Reader: John N. Kilmarx, Associate Vice President, Academic Administration

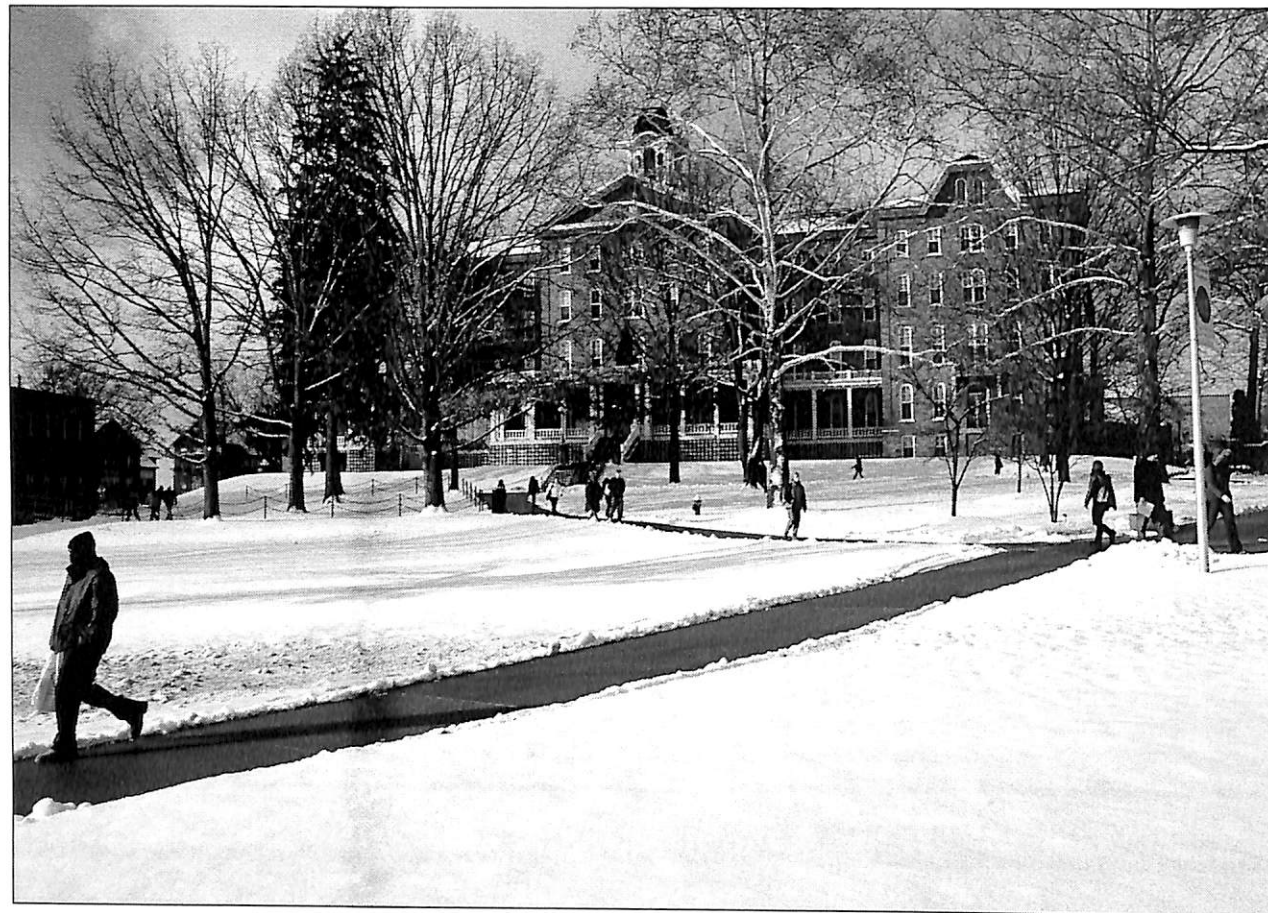

Graduates and Guests: Please remain seated until the platform party and faculty have recessed.

- * Please do not walk onto the floor to take pictures during the program.
-  Graduates, guests, and faculty are requested to join in the singing of the National Anthem.
-  Graduates, guests, and faculty are requested to join in the singing of the Alma Mater.

President Werner invites all graduates and guests to a reception in the Crimson Event Center, Folger Hall, immediately following the ceremony.

GRADUATION HONORS

LATIN HONORS

Asterisks denote Latin honors for first-time bachelor degree candidates as follows:

-  Summa Cum Laude 3.75 to 4.00
-  Magna Cum Laude 3.50 to 3.74
- * Cum Laude 3.25 to 3.49

Asterisks denote non-Latin honors for associate degree candidates as follows:

-  With Highest Honor 3.75 to 4.00
-  With High Honor 3.50 to 3.74
- * With Honor 3.25 to 3.49

Graduation honors are tentative and are based upon the cumulative grade-point average after conclusion of the student's next-to-last semester. Final honors for these graduates will be noted after final cumulative grade-point averages have been calculated.

Averages are determined on the basis of the following: 4=A; 3=B; 2=C.

The appearance of a name on this program is not a valid indication of graduation. The diploma of the university and an official transcript, signed and sealed by the proper officers, provide authentic testimony to the conferring of a degree.

THE SYMBOLS OF LEARNING

Participants in the commencement procession are attired in regalia that reflects a history and heritage that can be traced to the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries. Modern academic regalia evolved from the kinds of apparel worn by monks and students in the Middle Ages to keep warm in the medieval castles and halls in which they studied.

Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages, first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, and the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master; their dress was the outward sign of stature and responsibility. Academic regalia was thus a visible manifestation—in color and pattern and design—that unified those of common discipline and like purpose.

In later centuries, to preserve the regalia's dignity and meaning, universities set rules of academic dress. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895 establishing a code of approved attire. In 1932 the American Council on Education revised this code, which, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today. The principal features of academic dress are three: the gown, the cap, and the hood.

The Gown. The flowing gown dates to the twelfth century. Many think it was worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing. It is (with a few institutional exceptions) black for all degrees. Pointed sleeves indicate the bachelor's degree; long closed sleeves with a slit in the arm, the master's degree; and round open sleeves, the doctor's degree. The gown for bachelor's or master's degrees has no trimmings; the gown for the doctorate degree is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves, in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline in which the degree pertains.

The official colors of the college may also appear in the gown or its decorations. The trustees and some administrators of IUP wear gowns of slate trimmed in crimson velvet.

The Cap. The freed slave in ancient Rome won the privilege of wearing a cap, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square, symbolizing the book, although other authorities claim that it is a mortar board, the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. At the baccalaureate level the color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline. The tassel is moved from the right side of the cap to the left side upon conferral of the degree.

The Hood. In regalia, the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the university or college from which the degree was granted.

The Mace is a ceremonial staff carried by the chief university marshal, who is the most senior faculty member. The chief university marshal opens and closes all academic convocations, such as Honors Convocation and Commencement. Artist and metalsmith Walter J. Kipp designed and constructed the mace for IUP in 1967. The design was created around the state seal, which was placed at the top of the mace. The large keystone which comes next symbolizes the state emblem, and on this keystone the letters IUP are placed. The handturned shaft is made of native Pennsylvania walnut.

The President's Medallion is worn by the president of Indiana University of Pennsylvania during academic convocations as a symbol of the leadership responsibilities vested in that office. The previous medallion, designed and created by professor emeritus Robert W. Hamilton, featured the university seal in a jeweled setting. Professor Hamilton fabricated that medallion in 1998 to replace the original medallion crafted by Walter J. Kipp in 1968 for the fifteenth president, William W. Hassler. The current medallion was crafted at Wendell August Forge.
