COMMENCEMENT

WELCOME

Welcome, Families and Friends

The IUP community extends a warm welcome to the families and friends of a very distinguished graduating class. Over the past several years, the class members have worked and studied and are now ready to begin a new chapter in their lives. For some, this will mean a job and the responsibilities of a family. For others, it will mean graduate or professional school. Whatever course their future takes, we hope that our graduates will look back on their years here as having prepared them to meet and deal with the challenges that life will present.

In today's ceremonies, we recognize nearly one thousand undergraduate and graduate students for their academic achievement. The university joins parents, spouses, relatives, and friends in congratulating the graduates on their accomplishments and in wishing for them the happiness of a productive life, the respect of their fellow human beings, and the love of their families.

Best of luck and congratulations.

Welcome, Graduates, to the IUP Alumni Association

Welcome to the IUP Alumni Association. Did you know you are now a member? Once you've been a student at IUP, you'll always be a part of the family. As a graduate of Indiana University of Pennsylvania, you're automatically a member of the IUP Alumni Association. There are no dues to pay, no rules or regulations to follow. The Alumni Association brings alumni together in regions across the nation, providing opportunities for networking with fellow graduates. You also have the opportunity to enjoy benefits such as good deals on auto and homeowner's insurance, recognition of the many accomplishments of our alumni, and a number of online networking tools to keep you connected. Visit www.iup.edu/alumni to learn about all of the benefits, programs, and services provided to you as an alumnus/alumna of IUP.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O Say! Can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night, that our flag was still there.

O, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

ALMA MATER

To our noble Alma Mater's name
We, her children, sing a joyful lay
And to her a new allegiance pledge,
That lives beyond a day.

Refrain: Sing, O Sing, Our Alma Mater's praise,
Hail, O Hail, her colors' gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.

LYNN BOTELHO, KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Lynn Botelho is IUP's 2011-2012 University Professor, an honor that was accorded her in recognition of her outstanding record of teaching, research, and scholarly activity and service.

During her tenure as University Professor, Dr. Botelho plans to work to complete her current monograph, a study of old age and aging in seventeenth and eighteenth century England, titled The Aging Body. Her work on this monograph will have a direct impact on her teaching, as she will incorporate archival findings for the publication directly into the classroom.

Dr. Botelho joined the IUP faculty in 1996 as an assistant professor of history and was promoted to the rank of professor in 2005. She also serves as a core course professor for IUP's Robert E. Cook Honors College, a position she has held since 2000.

Dr. Botelho is currently serving in several international executive positions in the field of British studies, including as president of the North American Conference on British Studies. In this role, she organized and hosted the national meeting of the organization in November 2010. This conference brought a near-record-setting number of participants from throughout the world.

In 1999, she organized an international conference, "The Worlds of John Winthrop: England and New England, 1588-1649," which drew more than fifty invited speakers, including Pulitzer Prize winners, and more than 250 people. The conference not only produced a collection of essays, but resulted in a team-taught class between Millersville University of Pennsylvania and IUP that linked both sets of students by video. It enabled IUP students to have direct contact with these scholars and post-conference chat-room conversations.

Dr. Botelho has published seven books and thirteen articles or essays, including "Old Age and the English Poor Law, 1500-1700," the first ever extended study of its kind. One of her essays, "Old Age in Seventeenth-Century Europe," which appears in the History of Old Age, was a Book of the Month Club option in German. In 2000, she co-edited Women and Ageing in Britain since 1500, a collection of essays that are the first extended look at the lives of aging women in England's past.

In addition to her being named University Professor, Dr. Botelho was honored by the university with the Distinguished Faculty Award for Research in 2008 and by the History Department with the Service Award for Outstanding Service in the Department in 2002.

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT WERNER

To the Degree Recipients,

Today may not seem nearly as important to you as it does to the family members and friends who have come to watch you graduate. You may even wonder why you have to go through this ceremony—after you've spent years working on the degree you're receiving. Wasn't that enough?

This commencement ceremony puts the finishing touch on your IUP experience. It marks a passage and recognizes your success. Celebrating your graduation is like celebrating your birthday: Just as you move from one age to the next, today you move from one phase of your life to the next.

You'll be surprised at what you'll take along with you. Some things you think you'll always remember, you may soon forget. What will stay in your memory longest may be a particular faculty member. Years from now, you may still recall a lecture that person gave or a comment he or she wrote on one of your papers.

I can predict these memories with confidence, not just because I've been where you are today, but because I read alumni magazines. I see the letters and reminiscences that graduates contribute. Sometimes, they refer in detail to lectures that were given fifty or sixty years ago. Imagine!

Even though you may have absorbed the contents of myriad textbooks or performed any number of laboratory experiments, it is the human interaction you'll likely carry with you—perhaps as long as you live. While faculty members have been teaching you their subjects, they've also been teaching you how to look at the world. Henry Adams wrote, "A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

Congratulations on your achievement. Enjoy today, and enjoy your memories.

David Werner
Interim President

David J. Werner is the interim president of IUP. He began serving in the role August 1, 2010.

Werner is chancellor emeritus and professor emeritus of the 13,300-student Southern Illinois University Edwardsville. Before his seven-year tenure as chancellor, he served as the institution's provost for a decade and dean of its School of Business for twelve years.

After his retirement as chancellor, he spent a semester as a visiting researcher in human resources and public policy development at Ryukoku University in Kyoto, Japan. During 2005-2006, he served as interim president of Mansfield University of Pennsylvania and in 2007-2008 as interim provost of IUP.

He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Engineering from St. Louis University and both a Master of Science degree and Ph.D. in Industrial Engineering and Management Science from Northwestern University.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Indiana University of Pennsylvania was established in 1875 and is the largest and only doctoral research university in the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education. IUP has a long tradition of academic excellence and receives frequent accolades, including designation as one of The Best 376 Colleges in the 2012 edition of a Princeton Review book by that name. The university provides an intellectually challenging experience to fifteen thousand students at three campuses, all easily accessible from Pittsburgh and the Middle Atlantic region.

Academic offerings include more than one hundred thirty undergraduate programs with a variety of internship and study abroad programs, more than fifty master's degree programs, and eleven doctoral degrees. Unusual opportunities for research at all levels and the Robert E. Cook Honors College provide special challenges for academic growth. The variety and quality of instruction are characteristic of a big university, yet at IUP, close, one-to-one relationships develop within the teaching framework, and a strong sense of community prevails.

Indiana University of Pennsylvania is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity.

GOVERNING AND ADVISORY BOARDS

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE SYSTEM OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Since its creation on July 1, 1983, the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education has developed a reputation for service, achievement, and vision. Strong student demand for the academic offerings at the fourteen public universities in the State System is evidenced by the growth in head count enrollment to nearly 120,000 for 2011-2012. The State System universities are working to fulfill their potential as one of the largest human resource development infrastructures in the commonwealth.

GRADUATION HONORS

LATIN HONORS

Asterisks denote Latin honors for first-time bachelor's degree candidates as follows:

 Summa Cum Laude, 3.75 to 4.00
 Magna Cum Laude, 3.50 to 3.74
* Cum Laude, 3.25 to 3.49

Asterisks denote non-Latin honors for associate degree candidates as follows:

 With Highest Honor, 3.75 to 4.00
 With High Honor, 3.50 to 3.74
* With Honor, 3.25 to 3.49

Graduation honors are tentative and are based upon the cumulative grade-point average after conclusion of the student's next-to-last semester. Final honors for these graduates will be noted after final cumulative grade-point averages have been calculated.

Averages are determined on the basis of the following: 4=A; 3=B; 2=C.

The appearance of a name on this program is not a valid indication of graduation. The diploma of the university and an official transcript, signed and sealed by the proper officers, provide authentic testimony to the conferring of a degree.

4.0 GRADE-POINT AVERAGE BACHELOR'S DEGREE

The following have completed their first bachelor's degree program with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average.

Leanna Marie Barone

THE SYMBOLS OF LEARNING

Participants in the commencement procession are attired in regalia that reflects a history and heritage that can be traced to the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries. Modern academic regalia evolved from the kinds of apparel worn by monks and students in the Middle Ages to keep warm in the medieval castles and halls in which they studied.

Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages, first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, and the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master; their dress was the outward sign of stature and responsibility. Academic regalia was thus a visible manifestation—in color and pattern and design—that unified those of common discipline and like purpose.

In later centuries, to preserve the regalia's dignity and meaning, universities set rules of academic dress. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895, establishing a code of approved attire. In 1932, the American Council on Education revised this code, which, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today. The principal features of academic dress are three: the gown, the cap, and the hood.

The Gown. The flowing gown dates to the twelfth century. Many think it was worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing. It is (with a few institutional exceptions) black for all degrees. Pointed sleeves indicate the bachelor's degree; long closed sleeves with a slit in the arm, the master's degree; and round open sleeves, the doctoral degree. The gown for bachelor's or master's degrees has no trimmings; the gown for the doctoral degree is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves, in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline in which the degree pertains.

The official colors of the college may also appear in the gown or its decorations. The trustees and some administrators of IUP wear gowns of slate, trimmed in crimson velvet.

The Cap. The freed slave in ancient Rome won the privilege of wearing a cap, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square, symbolizing the book, although other authorities claim that it is a mortar board, the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. At the baccalaureate level, the color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline. The tassel is moved from the right side of the cap to the left side upon conferral of the degree.

The Hood. In regalia, the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the university or college from which the degree was granted.

The Mace is a ceremonial staff carried by the chief university marshal, who is the most senior faculty member. The chief university marshal opens and closes all academic convocations, such as Honors Convocation and commencement. Artist and metalsmith Walter J. Kipp designed and constructed the mace for IUP in 1967. The design was created around the state seal, which was placed at the top of the mace. The large keystone which comes next symbolizes the state emblem, and on this keystone the letters IUP are placed. The handturned shaft is made of native Pennsylvania walnut.

The President's Medallion is worn by the president of Indiana University of Pennsylvania during academic convocations as a symbol of the leadership responsibilities vested in that office. The previous medallion, designed and created by professor emeritus Robert W. Hamilton, featured the university seal in a jeweled setting. Professor Hamilton fabricated that medallion in 1998 to replace the original medallion crafted by Walter J. Kipp in 1968 for the fifteenth president, William W. Hassler. The current medallion was crafted at Wendell August Forge. President Tony Atwater was the first president to be inaugurated with the current medallion.

The Philanthropy Cord is worn as a symbol of philanthropic pride by the newest alumni who made gifts to the 2011 Senior Giving Campaign. This double-knotted gray and crimson cord symbolizes the reciprocal commitment between IUP and its alumni.

The Study Abroad Cord is a blue and green entwined cord that designates students who have participated in a one- or two-semester study abroad program during their studies at IUP. These students have studied in a wide variety of majors at universities throughout the world—and on every continent except Antarctica.
