ITUP

WELCOME

Welcome, Families and Friends

The IUP community extends a warm welcome to the families and friends of a very distinguished graduating class. Over the past several years, the class members have worked and studied and are now ready to begin a new chapter in their lives. For some, this will mean a job and the responsibilities of a family. For others, it will mean graduate or professional school. Whatever course their future takes, the university hopes that its graduates will look back on their years here as having prepared them to meet and deal with the challenges that life will present.

In today's ceremonies, more than 1,000 undergraduate and graduate students are recognized for their academic achievement. The university joins parents, spouses, relatives, and friends in congratulating the graduates on their accomplishments and in wishing for them the happiness of a productive life, the respect of their fellow human beings, and the love of their families.

Best of luck and congratulations.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O Say! Can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.

O, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

ALMA MATER

To our noble Alma Mater's name
We, her children, sing a joyful lay
And to her a new allegiance pledge,
That lives beyond a day.

Refrain: Sing, O Sing, Our Alma Mater's praise,
Hail, O Hail, her colors' gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT CLYDE MILLS MCGEARY

Clyde Mills McGeary was born and raised in Western Pennsylvania, near Pittsburgh. His early interests in history and art led him to Indiana State Teachers College, now IUP, and graduation with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1954. Those formative years at Indiana were during the turmoil of the Korean conflict. His ROTC experience and his battalion commander status at Indiana enabled him to serve two years as an officer in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, where he won several commendations for his work with the Engineer School and liaison with the Pentagon. Following his military service, he taught at the newly formed North Allegheny Schools and later at the University of Pittsburgh. Carnegie Mellon University awarded him a Master of Fine Arts degree in painting during that time. Further, he completed extensive postgraduate work in art history, arts education, and arts management at the University of Pittsburgh, Harvard University, New York University, and American University.

During President Johnson's Great Society program, the Pennsylvania Department of Education invited Mr. McGeary to lead the state's Fine Arts Division and later the Division of Arts and Sciences. His work with the Department of Education gained national notoriety, especially with the creation of the Governor's School for the Arts and later the complex of Governor's Schools of Excellence, which included the schools of Science, Health Care, Business, Agriculture, Teaching, and International Studies. While in this position, he was credited as an originator of the arts-in-education movement.

Mr. McGeary's expressive and artistic abilities, managerial vision, and leadership have earned him many honors. His extensive work with the J. Paul Getty Trust, Ford, Kellogg, and J.D. Rockefeller III foundations—all working to advance culture—engaged him on a worldwide basis. He was appointed by Pennsylvania Governor Mark Schweiker and later by Governor Ed Rendell to serve consecutive terms as a board member of the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts. Further, he served as a member of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, representing the secretary of Education. Also, his appointed service on the board of Preservation Pennsylvania further represented his deep commitment to Pennsylvania's rich heritage and diverse culture.

Currently, Mr. McGeary serves on the board of the Education Policy and Leadership Center, which recently completed a significant report on policy matters related to the arts and education. As a founder and board member of the Susquehanna Art Museum, located downtown Harrisburg, Mr. McGeary, along with fellow community leaders, will soon witness the construction of the museum's new, multimillion-dollar home in the city's midtown area.

Mr. McGeary's service and leadership of the Perry County Council of the Arts have transformed the rural arts agency into a thriving, regional center of culture, now serving six counties in Pennsylvania's heartland. While Mr. McGeary was its president, the organization received a significant financial bequest, as well as a collection of precious art objects, allowing for the creation of a community cultural center and museum in Newport. Recent efforts to honor Mr. McGeary for his vision and leadership in Perry County will underwrite the construction of an education resource and research room in the center for community leaders and teachers.

Mr. McGeary's lectures, critiques, and writing are extensive, earning him numerous national honors. He is a Distinguished Fellow of the National Art Education Association and the Pennsylvania Art Education Association. In 1988, IUP honored him with the Distinguished Alumni Award. He was also honored as a Distinguished Alumnus of his high school in Springdale along with a family friend, Ms. Rachel Carson.

His early work with the Educational Television Network resulted in hundreds of classroom programs on architecture, environment, music, and art for schools and colleges across the nation. He has coauthored, with Dr. Blanche Waugaman-Jefferson, an IUP graduate and former professor, a series of texts related to elementary art education. Other significant publications underscore the vital relationships of mathematics, science, and reading to all the arts, as educational foundations shift in our fast-changing, techno-communications-oriented world.

Mr. McGeary's service and commitment to the arts extend beyond visual art and embrace music and theater. He is an outspoken advocate for the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Harrisburg Symphony, jazz ensembles, and folk and old-fashioned country music—no doubt imprinted by his grandfather, Everett McGeary, who played fiddle with many country groups in Westmoreland, Indiana, Armstrong, and Allegheny counties during the early 1900s. Poetry, dance, drama/theater, and photography are among his interests and active service. His critiques of photography and poetry are popular and sought after across the state.

Mr. McGeary's paintings and sculptures have been exhibited widely, and his work is included in many private collections, universities, and corporate offices. Lebanon Valley College will host a retrospective of his paintings in the spring of 2013. Mr. McGeary's studio, located in the woodlands of Perry County, is a restored log cabin of 1820 vintage.

Barbara Conner-McGeary, also of IUP's Class of 1954, was Mr. McGeary's campus sweetheart and is now his wife and mother of their four children. Ms. Conner-McGeary, also an art educator, created the first arts magnet school in Pennsylvania.

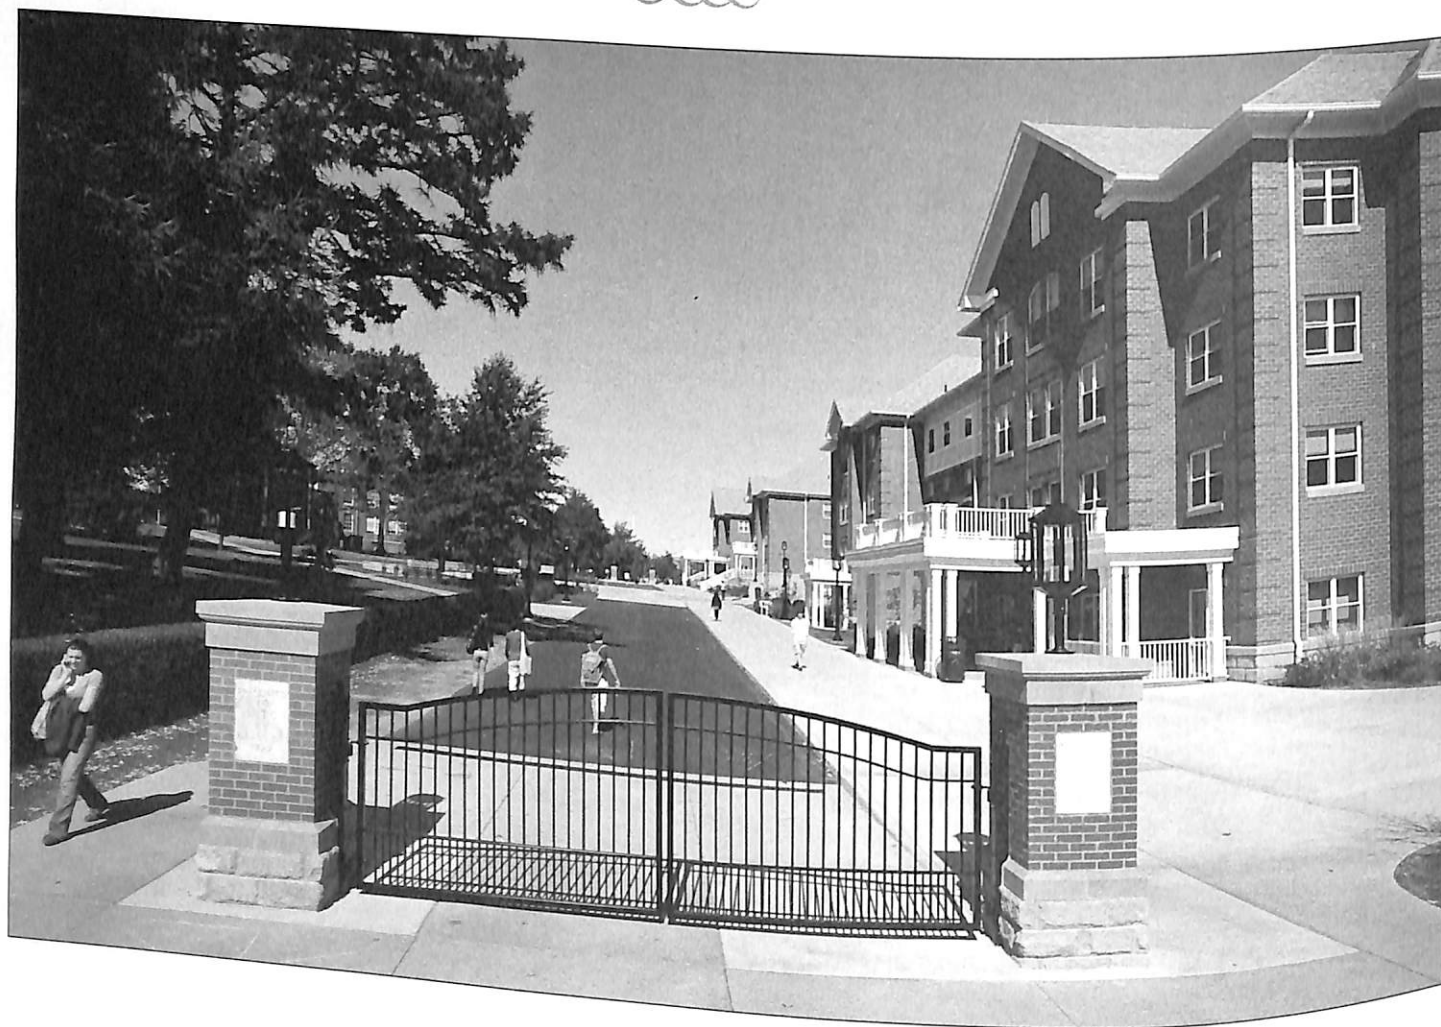

Their daughter Martha McGeary-Snider serves as chair of the Medici Papers Program based in Florence, Italy. She also serves on the boards of the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Philadelphia Museum of Art, and the Pennsylvania Academy of Art.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Indiana University of Pennsylvania was established in 1875 and is the largest and only doctoral research university in the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education. IUP has a long tradition of academic excellence and receives frequent accolades, including designation as one of The Best 376 Colleges in the 2012 edition of a Princeton Review book by that name. The university provides an intellectually challenging experience to 15,000 students at three campuses, all easily accessible from Pittsburgh and the Middle Atlantic region.

Academic offerings include more than 130 undergraduate programs with a variety of internship and study abroad programs, more than 50 master's degree programs, and 11 doctoral degrees. Unusual opportunities for research at all levels and the Robert E. Cook Honors College provide special challenges for academic growth. The variety and quality of instruction are characteristic of a big university, yet at IUP, close, one-to-one relationships develop within the teaching framework, and a strong sense of community prevails.

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT WERNER

To the Degree Recipients,

Today may not seem nearly as important to you as it does to the family members and friends who have come to watch you graduate. You may even wonder why you have to go through this ceremony—after you've spent years working on the degree you're receiving. Wasn't that enough?

This commencement ceremony puts the finishing touch on your IUP experience. It marks a passage and recognizes your success. Celebrating your graduation is like celebrating your birthday: Just as you move from one age to the next, today you move from one phase of your life to the next.

You'll be surprised at what you'll take along with you. Some things you think you'll always remember, you may soon forget. What will stay in your memory longest may be a particular faculty member. Years from now, you may still recall a lecture that person gave or a comment he or she wrote on one of your papers.

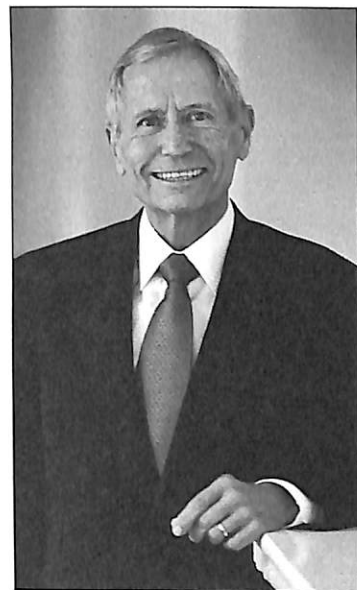

I can predict these memories with confidence, not just because I've been where you are today, but because I read alumni magazines. I see the letters and reminiscences that graduates contribute. Sometimes, they refer in detail to lectures that were given 50 or 60 years ago. Imagine!

Even though you may have absorbed the contents of myriad textbooks or performed any number of laboratory experiments, it is the human interaction you'll likely carry with you—perhaps as long as you live. While faculty members have been teaching you their subjects, they've also been teaching you how to look at the world. Henry Adams wrote, "A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

Congratulations on your achievement. Enjoy today, and enjoy your memories.

David Werner

Interim President

David J. Werner is the interim president of IUP. He began serving in the role August 1, 2010.

Dr. Werner is chancellor emeritus and professor emeritus of the 13,300-student Southern Illinois University Edwardsville. Before his seven-year tenure as chancellor, he served as the institution's provost for a decade and dean of its School of Business for 12 years.

After his retirement as chancellor, he spent a semester as a visiting researcher in human resources and public policy development at Ryukoku University in Kyoto, Japan. During 2005–2006, he served as interim president of Mansfield University of Pennsylvania and in 2007–2008 as interim provost of IUP.

He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Engineering from St. Louis University and both a Master of Science degree and Ph.D. in Industrial Engineering and Management Science from Northwestern University.

DISTINGUISHED FACULTY AWARDS

DISTINGUISHED FACULTY AWARD FOR RESEARCH

Raymond Pavloski, Psychology

Raymond Pavloski is the recipient of the Distinguished Faculty Award for Research, with which the University Senate honors one faculty member each year. Dr. Pavloski, chair of the Department of Psychology, studies how perceptual experience is produced by neural network activities. In 2011, he and a coauthor gave a presentation, "How Do We See?" at the second annual Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education Psychology Conference at Kutztown University. Results of his research could help people diagnosed with autism spectrum disorders, including those who have difficulty recognizing faces and everyday objects. His research with a co-investigator, supported by a National Institutes of Health grant, could lead to new diagnostic instruments and interventions. Dr. Pavloski, a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honor society, graduated summa cum laude with a Bachelor of Science degree from Pennsylvania State University in 1973 and received his Ph.D. from McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, in 1979.

DISTINGUISHED FACULTY AWARD FOR SERVICE

David Piper, Employment and Labor Relations

David Piper is the recipient of the Distinguished Faculty Award for Service, with which the University Senate honors one faculty member each year. Dr. Piper's service to the university includes leadership of the Universitywide Graduate Curriculum Committee, which he has chaired since his election in fall 2008. Dr. Piper was elected cochair of the Student Cooperative Association board in fall 2011 and has been instrumental in planning a new recreational complex, with construction scheduled to start this May. Dr. Piper's service to his department includes his election as chair in May 2011. Also, since arriving at IUP in 2003, he initiated an annual benefit dinner to recognize Employment and Labor Relations alumni, and that dinner has raised more than $12,000 in scholarship funds for incoming students. Dr. Piper's community service includes nine years as deputy coroner for Indiana County; his 2005 coordination, with the American Red Cross, of a fund drive that raised more than $13,000 for victims of Hurricane Katrina; and his ongoing service as an arbitrator/mediator for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and the Pennsylvania Department of Labor.

DISTINGUISHED FACULTY AWARDS

DISTINGUISHED FACULTY AWARD FOR CREATIVE ARTS

Joan Van Dyke, Theater and Dance

Joan E. Van Dyke is the recipient of the Distinguished Faculty Award for Creative Arts, with which the University Senate honors one faculty member each year. Ms. Van Dyke, who received a Master of Fine Arts in dance in 1998 from Arizona State University, blends art with the teacher-scholar model of educator. She choreographed a production staged in Dubrovnik, Croatia, in 2008 that commemorated the 500th anniversary of the birth of Croatian comedy writer Marin Držić. In 2010, she collaborated in the creation and performance of The Red Shoes Project, which brought to the stage at IUP two fairy tales based on the text Women Who Run with the Wolves. Also in 2010, Ms. Van Dyke was invited to present her new approach to stage movement, titled "Alignment for Character," at the Sixth International Theater of Change in Athens, Greece.

 Summa Cum Laude 3.75 to 4.00
 Magna Cum Laude 3.50 to 3.74
* Cum Laude 3.25 to 3.49

Asterisks denote non-Latin honors for associate degree candidates as follows:

 With Highest Honor 3.75 to 4.00
 With High Honor 3.50 to 3.74
* With Honor 3.25 to 3.49

Graduation honors are tentative and are based upon the cumulative grade-point average after conclusion of the student's next-to-last semester. Final honors for these graduates will be noted after final cumulative grade-point averages have been calculated.

Averages are determined on the basis of the following: 4=A; 3=B; 2=C.

The appearance of a name on this program is not a valid indication of graduation. The diploma of the university and an official transcript, signed and sealed by the proper officers, provide authentic testimony to the conferring of a degree.

CLASS OF 1962

On May 27, 1962, and again on August 19, members of the Class of 1962 received degrees at spring and summer commencement ceremonies at what was then known as Indiana State College. In the two ceremonies, 565 students graduated, and 39 class members were commissioned as officers in the U.S. Army. Most were Education majors, since a Liberal Arts curriculum was just being introduced at the college.

In the years since their graduation, members of the class have led successful careers in education, in business as entrepreneurs and CEOs, and in government. Five class members have been honored by the IUP Alumni Association with Distinguished Alumni Awards for their sustained career achievements. Those present today to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their graduation are the following:

THE SYMBOLS OF LEARNING

Participants in the commencement procession are attired in regalia that reflects a history and heritage that can be traced to the medieval universities of the 11th and 12th centuries. Modern academic regalia evolved from the kinds of apparel worn by monks and students in the Middle Ages to keep warm in the medieval castles and halls in which they studied.

Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages, first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, and the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master; their dress was the outward sign of stature and responsibility. Academic regalia was thus a visible manifestation—in color and pattern and design—that unified those of common discipline and like purpose.

In later centuries, to preserve the regalia's dignity and meaning, universities set rules of academic dress. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895 establishing a code of approved attire. In 1932, the American Council on Education revised this code, which, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today. The principal features of academic dress are three: the gown, the cap, and the hood.

The Gown. The flowing gown dates to the 12th century. Many think it was worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing. It is (with a few institutional exceptions) black for all degrees. Pointed sleeves indicate the bachelor's degree; long closed sleeves with a slit in the arm, the master's degree; and round open sleeves, the doctoral degree. The gown for bachelor's or master's degrees has no trimmings; the gown for the doctoral degree is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves, in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline in which the degree pertains.

The official colors of the college may also appear in the gown or its decorations. The trustees and some administrators of IUP wear gowns of slate, trimmed in crimson velvet.

The Cap. The freed slave in ancient Rome won the privilege of wearing a cap, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square, symbolizing the book, although other authorities claim that it is a mortarboard, the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. At the baccalaureate level, the color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline. The tassel is moved from the right side of the cap to the left side upon conferral of the degree.

The Hood. In regalia, the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the university or college from which the degree was granted.

The Mace is a ceremonial staff carried by the chief university marshal, who is the most senior faculty member. The chief university marshal opens and closes all academic convocations, such as Honors Convocation and commencement. Artist and metalsmith Walter J. Kipp designed and constructed the mace for IUP in 1967. The design was created around the state seal, which was placed at the top of the mace. The large keystone which comes next symbolizes the state emblem, and on this keystone are the letters IUP. The handturned shaft is made of native Pennsylvania walnut.

The President's Medallion is worn by the president of Indiana University of Pennsylvania during academic convocations as a symbol of the leadership responsibilities vested in that office. The previous medallion, designed and created by professor emeritus Robert W. Hamilton, featured the university seal in a jeweled setting. Professor Hamilton fabricated that medallion in 1998 to replace the original medallion, crafted by Walter J. Kipp in 1968 for the 15th president, William W. Hassler. The current medallion was crafted at Wendell August Forge. President Tony Atwater was the first president to be inaugurated with the current medallion.

The Philanthropy Cord is worn as a symbol of philanthropic pride by the newest alumni who made gifts to the 2012 Senior Giving Campaign. This double-knotted gray and crimson cord symbolizes the reciprocal commitment between IUP and its alumni.

The Study Abroad Cord is a blue and green entwined cord that designates students who have participated in a one- or two-semester study abroad program during their studies at IUP. These students have studied in a wide variety of majors at universities throughout the world—and on every continent except Antarctica.
