

COMMENCEMENT

DECEMBER 14, 2013

WELCOME

Welcome, Families and Friends

The IUP community extends a warm welcome to the families and friends of a very distinguished graduating class. Over the past several years, the class members have worked and studied and are now ready to begin a new chapter in their lives. For some, this will mean a job and the responsibilities of a family. For others, it will mean graduate or professional school. The university community hopes that, whatever course their future takes, graduates will look back on their years here as having prepared them to meet and deal with the challenges that life will present.

In today's ceremonies, nearly 1,000 undergraduate and graduate students are being recognized for their academic achievement. The university joins parents, spouses, relatives, and friends in congratulating the graduates on their accomplishments and in wishing for them the happiness of a productive life, the respect of their fellow human beings, and the love of their families. Best of luck and congratulations.

Welcome, Graduates, to the IUP Alumni Association

Welcome to the IUP Alumni Association. Did you know you are now a member? As a graduate of Indiana University of Pennsylvania, you're automatically a member of the IUP Alumni Association. There are no dues to pay, no rules or regulations to follow. The Alumni Association brings alumni together in regions across the nation, providing opportunities for networking with fellow graduates. You also have the opportunity to enjoy benefits such as good deals on auto and homeowners insurance, recognition of the many accomplishments of alumni, and a number of online networking tools to keep you connected. Visit www.iup.edu/alumni to learn about all of the benefits, programs, and services provided to you as an alumnus or alumna of IUP.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,
O say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

ALMA MATER

To our noble Alma Mater's name
We, her children, sing a joyful lay
And to her a new allegiance pledge,
That lives beyond a day.

Refrain: Sing, O Sing, Our Alma Mater's praise,
Hail, O Hail, her colors' gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.

VICTOR GARCIA, KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Victor Garcia, professor of anthropology and director of the Mid-Atlantic Addiction Research and Training Institute, is the Distinguished University Professor for 2013-14. He was accorded the honor in recognition of his record of teaching, research, and scholarly activity.

Dr. Garcia has been at IUP since 1991. He is known internationally as an expert on the study of Latino immigrants and migrants, the educational plight of Latinos, and substance abuse problems among transnational workers from Mexico and Central America. He has conducted much of his research in southeastern Pennsylvania among Latino workers in the mushroom industry.

During his tenure as Distinguished University Professor, Dr. Garcia will revisit his work on substance abuse treatment programs found in transnational Mexican communities and publish the results. He will also re-examine his research on three Alcoholics Anonymous-based treatment programs used in Pennsylvania and Mexico for this transnational population.

For his research, Dr. Garcia has secured 19 grants totaling close to $1.5 million, including a $750,000 grant from the National Institutes of Health. He has presented his research at national and international conferences and has written numerous research reports, book chapters, and articles. He is co-author of a 2013 book, Barriers Faced by Hispanic Students Transferring from Community Colleges to the University: An Ethnographic Approach.

Dr. Garcia has been active in helping to recruit Latino students to IUP by developing community-based outreach and recruitment measures. He has developed and implemented an on-campus retention program for Latino students, Caring about Latino Student Achievement, the first of its kind for a Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education university.

He also has developed two courses important to understanding Latin America and Latinos in the United States, and he directs a number of independent studies and McNair Scholars Program research projects.

Dr. Garcia was selected to serve on a National Institutes of Health study group, the Community Influences on Health Behavior, which reviews and recommends proposals for research funds. Additionally, he was selected for the Cultural Anthropology and Linguistic Panel of the National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship program, which makes decisions on funding for outstanding graduate students.

As director of MARTI, he has been responsible for garnering external funds to complement the operational budget and has been successful in securing 17 different grants.

Dr. Garcia has a bachelor's degree from the University of California, Davis, a master's degree in Latin American studies from Stanford University, and master's and doctoral degrees in anthropology from the University of California, Santa Barbara.

In addition to his Distinguished University Professor honor, he received the Outstanding Researcher Award from the College of Humanities and Social Sciences in 2008 and the Outstanding Achievement in Research Award from the School of Graduate Studies and Research in 2001.

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT DRISCOLL

To the Degree Recipients,

When I was finishing my degree, commencement was nowhere near as important to me as it was to my family and friends. My parents made sure I walked across the stage so they could watch.

Looking back, I know that commencement marked an important transition in my life, just as it does for you today. This is the beginning, the commencing, of the next phase of your life. We expect you to take what you have learned and use it to make this world a better place.

You'll be surprised at what you'll take along with you. Some things you think you'll always remember, you may soon forget. What will stay in your memory longest may be a particular faculty member. Years from now, you may still recall a lecture that person gave or a comment he or she wrote on one of your papers.

I can predict these memories with confidence, not just because I've been where you are today, but because I read alumni magazines. I see the letters and reminiscences that graduates contribute. Sometimes, they refer in detail to lectures that were given 50 or 60 years ago. Imagine!

Though you may have absorbed the contents of myriad textbooks or performed any number of laboratory experiments, it is the human interaction you'll likely carry with you—perhaps as long as you live. While faculty members have been teaching you their subjects, they've also been teaching you how to look at the world. Henry Adams wrote, "A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

Congratulations on your achievement. Enjoy today, and enjoy your memories.

Michael A. Driscoll
President

Michael A. Driscoll has served as president of IUP since July 1, 2012.

Before coming to IUP, Dr. Driscoll was provost and executive vice chancellor of the University of Alaska Anchorage, a 21,000-student multicampus institution.

He previously worked at Portland State University in Oregon, where he started as a faculty member in the electrical engineering department and later became associate chair of the department, associate dean then executive dean of the engineering school, and finally vice provost for academic personnel and budget.

Dr. Driscoll has a PhD, master of science degree, and bachelor of science degree, all in electrical engineering from Michigan State University in East Lansing.

He and his wife, Becky, are the parents of two adult children.

THE UNIVERSITY

Indiana University of Pennsylvania was established in 1875 and is the only doctoral research university in the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education. IUP has a long tradition of academic excellence and receives frequent accolades, including designation as one of The Best 378 Colleges in the 2014 edition of a Princeton Review book by that name. The university provides an intellectually challenging experience to nearly 15,000 students at three campuses, all easily accessible from Pittsburgh and the Middle Atlantic region.

Academic offerings include more than 130 undergraduate programs with a variety of internship and study abroad programs, nearly 60 master's degree programs, and 11 doctoral degrees. Unusual opportunities for research at all levels and the Robert E. Cook Honors College provide special challenges for academic growth. The variety and quality of instruction are characteristic of a big university, yet at IUP, close, one-to-one relationships develop within the teaching framework, and a strong sense of community prevails.

IUP is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity.

GOVERNING AND ADVISORY BOARDS

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE SYSTEM OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Since its creation on July 1, 1983, the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education has developed a reputation for service, achievement, and vision. Strong student demand for the academic offerings at the 14 public universities in the State System is evidenced by the combined enrollment of about 112,000 students. The State System universities are working to fulfill their potential as one of the largest human resource development infrastructures in the commonwealth.

GRADUATION HONORS

LATIN HONORS

Asterisks denote Latin honors for first-time bachelor's degree candidates as follows:

-  Summa Cum Laude, 3.75 to 4.00
-  Magna Cum Laude, 3.50 to 3.74
- * Cum Laude, 3.25 to 3.49

Asterisks denote non-Latin honors for associate degree candidates as follows:

-  With Highest Honor, 3.75 to 4.00
-  With High Honor, 3.50 to 3.74
- * With Honor, 3.25 to 3.49

Graduation honors are tentative and are based upon the cumulative grade-point average after conclusion of the student's next-to-last semester. Final honors for these graduates will be noted after final cumulative grade-point averages have been calculated.

Averages are determined on the basis of the following: 4=A, 3=B, 2=C.

The appearance of a name on this program is not a valid indication of graduation. The diploma of the university and an official transcript, signed and sealed by the proper officers, provide authentic testimony to the conferring of a degree.

BACHELOR'S DEGREE RECIPIENTS WITH A 4.0 GRADE-POINT AVERAGE

The following students have completed their first bachelor's degree program with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average:

Vincent Sullivan Hall
Rebecca Elizabeth Olson
Kathleen Marie Patrick
Luke Andrew Prutzal

THE SYMBOLS OF LEARNING

Participants in the commencement procession are attired in regalia that reflects a history and heritage that can be traced to the medieval universities of the 11th and 12th centuries. Modern academic regalia evolved from the kinds of apparel worn by monks and students in the Middle Ages to keep warm in the medieval castles and halls in which they studied.

Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages, first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, and the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master; their dress was the outward sign of stature and responsibility. Academic regalia was thus a visible manifestation—in color and pattern and design—that unified those of common discipline and like purpose.

In later centuries, to preserve the regalia's dignity and meaning, universities set rules of academic dress. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895 establishing a code of approved attire. In 1932, the American Council on Education revised this code, which, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today. The principal features of academic dress are three: the gown, the cap, and the hood.

The Gown. The flowing gown dates to the 12th century. Many think it was worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing. It is (with a few long closed sleeves with a slit in the arm, the master's degree; and round open sleeves, the doctoral degree. The gown for bachelor's or master's degrees has no trimmings; the gown for the doctoral degree is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves, in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline in which the degree pertains.

The official colors of the college may also appear in the gown or its decorations. The trustees and some administrators of IUP wear gowns of slate, trimmed in crimson velvet.

The Cap. The freed slave in ancient Rome won the privilege of wearing a cap, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square, symbolizing the book, although other authorities claim that it is a mortarboard, the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. At the baccalaureate level, the color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline. The tassel is moved from the right side of the cap to the left side upon conferral of the degree.

The Hood. In regalia, the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the university or college from which the degree was granted.

The Mace is a ceremonial staff carried by the chief university marshal, the most senior faculty member. The chief university marshal opens and closes all academic convocations, such as Honors Convocation and commencement. Artist and metalsmith Walter J. Kipp designed and constructed the mace for IUP in 1967. The design was created around the state seal, which was placed at the top of the mace. The large keystone which comes next symbolizes the state emblem, and on this keystone the letters IUP are placed. The handturned shaft is made of native Pennsylvania walnut.

The President's Medallion is worn by the president of the university during academic convocations as a symbol of the leadership responsibilities vested in that office. The previous medallion, designed and created by professor emeritus Robert W. Hamilton, featured the university seal in a jeweled setting. Professor Hamilton fabricated that medallion in 1998 to replace the original medallion, crafted by Walter J. Kipp in 1968 for the 15th president, William W. Hassler. The current medallion was crafted at Wendell August Forge. Tony Atwater was the first president to be inaugurated with the current medallion.

The Philanthropy Cord is worn as a symbol of philanthropic pride by the newest alumni who made gifts to the Senior Giving Campaign. This double-knotted gray and crimson cord symbolizes the reciprocal commitment between IUP and its alumni.

The Study Abroad Cord is a blue and green entwined cord that designates students who have participated in a one- or two-semester study abroad program during their studies at IUP. These students have studied in a wide variety of majors at universities throughout the world—and on every continent except Antarctica.
