

COMMENCEMENT

DECEMBER 13, 2014

WELCOME

Welcome, Families and Friends

The IUP community extends a warm welcome to the families and friends of a very distinguished graduating class. Over the past several years, the class members have worked and studied and are now ready to begin a new chapter in their lives. For some, this will mean a job and the responsibilities of a family. For others, it will mean graduate or professional school. Whatever course their future takes, the university hopes that its graduates will look back on their years here as having prepared them to meet and deal with the challenges that life will present.

In today's ceremony, nearly 1,000 undergraduate and graduate students are recognized for their academic achievement. The university joins parents, spouses, relatives, and friends in congratulating the graduates on their accomplishments and in wishing for them the happiness of a productive life, the respect of their fellow human beings, and the love of their families.

Best of luck and congratulations.

Welcome, Graduates, to the IUP Alumni Association

Welcome to the IUP Alumni Association. Did you know you are now a member? Once you've been a student at IUP, you'll always be a part of the family. As a graduate of Indiana University of Pennsylvania, you're automatically a member of the IUP Alumni Association. There are no dues to pay, no rules or regulations to follow. The Alumni Association brings alumni together in regions across the nation, providing opportunities for networking with fellow graduates. You also have the opportunity to enjoy benefits, such as good deals on auto and homeowners insurance, recognition of the many accomplishments of IUP alumni, and a number of online networking tools to keep you connected. Visit www.iup.edu/alumni to learn about all of the benefits, programs, and services provided exclusively for you as an alumnus or alumna of IUP.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,
O say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

ALMA MATER

To our noble Alma Mater's name
We, her children, sing a joyful lay
And to her a new allegiance pledge,
That lives beyond a day.

Refrain:
Sing, O Sing, Our Alma Mater's praise,
Hail, O Hail, her colors' gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.

KRZYSZTOF KANIASTY, KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Krzysztof (Krys) Kaniasty, professor of psychology, is the Distinguished University Professor for 2014-15. He was accorded the honor in recognition of his record of teaching, research, and scholarly activity.

Dr. Kaniasty studied psychology in Poland and the United States. In his 24 years at IUP, he has taught undergraduate and graduate courses in research methodology, social psychology, cultural psychology, and stress and coping. He is also a member of the Institute of Psychology of the Polish Academy of Sciences in Warsaw, Poland. He conducted and collaborated on several large-scale longitudinal studies investigating social support exchanges, individual and communal coping, and psychological well-being following natural disasters and other major stressors in several countries, including the United States, Mexico, Poland, and China.

Dr. Kaniasty is the current president of the Stress and Anxiety Research Society. He is perhaps the foremost authority on postdisaster social support, having written or co-written numerous empirical and theoretical articles, chapters, and reports on the topic. His scholarship has been recognized with several prestigious honors, including the Stress and Anxiety Research Society's Lifetime Career Award (2011), the Individual Award from the Polish Ministry of Science and Higher Education (2003), and from IUP, the Distinguished Faculty Award for Research (1997), the Sponsored Program Award for Outstanding Achievement in Research (1999), and the Outstanding Researcher Award from the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics (2011). He also served as chief editor of Anxiety, Stress, and Coping: An International Journal from 2001 to 2007.

During his tenure as Distinguished University Professor, Dr. Kaniasty has been working on a project that will address a simple question: When is social support actually helpful? A large part of his research career has been devoted to looking for empirical evidence of what seems obvious to many, if not most, people: Receiving help in times of crisis is supportive. Paradoxically, many stress and coping scholars and mental health practitioners, while enthusiastically heralding the beneficial effects of social support on psychological health, primarily refer to perceived social support (hypothetical construct), not received support (tangible construct). Hence, he will focus on why received support is less influential than perceived support. His goal is to enumerate and describe social-psychological processes that undermine the efficacy of social support actually exchanged in times of stress. Ironically, social support is so omnipresent, it has unlimited opportunities to go wrong and potentially be harmful. As part of his project, he hopes to prepare a set of explicit recommendations for helping people in crises.

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT DRISCOLL

About the President

Michael A. Driscoll has high expectations for IUP.

A pinnacle of his first 16 months at the helm was to lead the creation of a formalized strategic vision that provides a beacon for IUP's future.

The strategic vision emphasizes a student experience that connects research and learning with solving real problems in society. It teems with faculty interaction, engaged learning outside of the classroom and in the community, and an emphasis on face-to-face learning that is enhanced by technology. Ultimately, the document calls for alumni who are proud of their IUP experience and eager to continue their association with their alma mater.

Before his arrival at IUP in 2012, Dr. Driscoll served as executive vice chancellor and provost of the University of Alaska Anchorage, a position he took after serving in various posts at Portland State University in Oregon, including as vice provost for Academic Personnel and Budget and executive dean of the Maseeh College of Engineering and Computer Science.

He earned his PhD in 1988, his MS in 1985, and his BS in 1983, all in electrical engineering, from Michigan State University.

To the Degree Recipients,

When I was finishing my degree, commencement was nowhere near as important to me as it was to my family and friends. My parents made sure I walked across the stage so they could watch.

Looking back, I know that commencement marked an important transition in my life, just as it does for you today. This is the beginning, the commencing, of the next phase of your life. We expect you to take what you have learned and use it to make this world a better place.

You'll be surprised at what you'll take along with you. Some things you think you'll always remember, you may soon forget. What will stay in your memory longest may be a particular faculty member. Years from now, you may still recall a lecture that person gave or a comment he or she wrote on one of your papers.

I can predict these memories with confidence, not just because I've been where you are today, but because I read alumni magazines. I see the letters and reminiscences that graduates contribute. Sometimes, they refer in detail to lectures that were given 50 or 60 years ago. Imagine!

Though you may have absorbed the contents of myriad textbooks or performed any number of laboratory experiments, it is the human interaction you'll likely carry with you—perhaps as long as you live. While faculty members have been teaching you their subjects, they've also been teaching you how to look at the world. Henry Adams wrote, "A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

Congratulations on your achievement. Enjoy today, and enjoy your memories.

THE UNIVERSITY

Indiana University of Pennsylvania was established in 1875 and is the only doctoral research university in Pennsylvania's State System of Higher Education. IUP has a long tradition of academic excellence and receives frequent accolades, including designation as one of The Best 379 Colleges in the 2015 edition of a Princeton Review book by that name. The university provides an intellectually challenging experience to more than 14,000 students at three campuses, all easily accessible from Pittsburgh and the Middle Atlantic region.

Academic offerings include more than 130 undergraduate majors with a variety of internship and study abroad programs, more than 50 master's degree programs, and 12 doctoral degrees. Unusual opportunities for research at all levels and the Robert E. Cook Honors College provide special challenges for academic growth. The variety and quality of instruction are characteristic of a big university, yet at IUP, close, one-to-one relationships develop within the teaching framework, and a strong sense of community prevails.

GOVERNING AND ADVISORY BOARDS

PENNSYLVANIA'S STATE SYSTEM OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Since its creation on July 1, 1983, Pennsylvania's State System of Higher Education has developed a reputation for service, achievement, and vision. Strong student demand for the academic offerings at the 14 public universities in the State System is evidenced by the combined enrollment of more than 110,000 students. The State System universities are working to fulfill their potential as one of the largest human resource development infrastructures in the commonwealth.

GRADUATION HONORS

LATIN HONORS

Asterisks denote Latin honors for first-time bachelor's degree candidates as follows:

-  Summa Cum Laude, 3.75 to 4.00
-  Magna Cum Laude, 3.50 to 3.74
- * Cum Laude, 3.25 to 3.49

Asterisks denote non-Latin honors for associate degree candidates as follows:

-  With Highest Honor, 3.75 to 4.00
-  With High Honor, 3.50 to 3.74
- * With Honor, 3.25 to 3.49

Graduation honors are tentative and are based on the cumulative grade point average after conclusion of the student's next-to-last semester. Final honors for these graduates will be noted after final cumulative grade point averages have been calculated.

Averages are determined on the basis of the following:
4=A; 3=B; 2=C.

The appearance of a name on this program is not a valid indication of graduation. The diploma of the university and an official transcript, signed and sealed by the proper officers, provide authentic testimony to the conferring of a degree.

BACHELOR'S DEGREE RECIPIENTS WITH A 4.0 GRADE POINT AVERAGE

The following students have completed their first bachelor's degree program with a perfect 4.0 grade point average:

Katlyn Elizabeth Becker
Savanna Rachelle Bonds
Paige Marie Cashdollar
Drew Alexander Cordell
Melissa Ann Dobransky
Jessica Leigh Hatheway

Chairperson

Upon conferral of the degree, the following student will be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the United States Army:

Lindsey Christina Patrick

THE SYMBOLS OF LEARNING

Participants in the commencement procession are attired in regalia that reflects a history and heritage that can be traced to the medieval universities of the 11th and 12th centuries. Modern academic regalia evolved from the kinds of apparel worn by monks and students in the Middle Ages to keep warm in the medieval castles and halls in which they studied.

Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages, first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, and the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master; their dress was the outward sign of stature and responsibility. Academic regalia was thus a visible manifestation—in color and pattern and design—that unified those of common discipline and like purpose.

In later centuries, to preserve the regalia's dignity and meaning, universities set rules of academic dress. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895 establishing a code of approved attire. In 1932, the American Council on Education revised this code, which, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today. The principal features of academic dress are three: the gown, the cap, and the hood.

The Gown. The flowing gown dates to the 12th century. Many think it was worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing. It is (with a few institutional exceptions) black for all degrees. Pointed sleeves indicate the bachelor's degree; long closed sleeves with a slit in the arm, the master's degree; and round open sleeves, the doctoral degree. The gown for bachelor's or master's degrees has no trimmings; the gown for the doctoral degree is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves, in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline in which the degree pertains.

The official colors of the college may also appear in the gown or its decorations. The trustees and some administrators of IUP wear gowns of slate, trimmed in crimson velvet.

The Cap. The freed slave in ancient Rome won the privilege of wearing a cap, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square, symbolizing the book, although other authorities claim that it is a mortarboard, the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. At the baccalaureate level, the color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline. The tassel is moved from the right side of the cap to the left side upon conferral of the degree.

The Hood. In regalia, the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the university or college from which the degree was granted.

The Mace is a ceremonial staff carried by the chief university marshal, the most senior faculty member. The chief university marshal opens and closes all academic convocations, such as Freshman Convocation and commencement. Artist and metalsmith Walter J. Kipp, a 1942 graduate of Indiana State Teachers College, designed and constructed the mace for IUP in 1967. The design was created around the state seal, which was placed at the top of the mace. The large keystone which comes next symbolizes the state emblem, and on this keystone the letters IUP are placed. The handturned shaft is made of native Pennsylvania walnut.

The President's Medallion is worn by the president of the university during academic convocations as a symbol of the leadership responsibilities vested in that office. Michael A. Driscoll was the first president to wear the current medallion, featuring the university seal in antiqued silver and crimson. The IUP Design Studio designed this fourth presidential medallion in 2014, and Medallion Art Company constructed the piece. Walter Kipp made the original medallion in 1968 for the 15th president, William W. Hassler. Robert W. Hamilton, professor emeritus of art, created a replacement medallion in 1998, and Wendell August Forge crafted a third in 2005.

The Philanthropy Cord is worn as a symbol of philanthropic pride by the newest alumni who made gifts to the Senior Giving Campaign. This double-knotted gray and crimson cord symbolizes the reciprocal commitment between IUP and its alumni.

The Study Abroad Cord is a blue and green entwined cord that designates students who have participated in a one- or two-semester study abroad program during their studies at IUP. These students have studied in a wide variety of majors at universities throughout the world—and on every continent except Antarctica.

The Punxsutawney Cord and Pin, in crimson and gold, are worn by new graduates who originated their IUP study at the Punxsutawney Regional Campus. The crimson symbolizes IUP as the degree-granting institution, and the gold, the foundation of enlightenment, knowledge, and compassion acquired during the first year of baccalaureate study at IUP Punxsutawney.

The Lavender Cord is worn by individuals who identify across the spectrum of gender identity, gender expression, and/or sexual orientation. The color lavender represents a combination of the pink and black triangles gay men, lesbians, and some political prisoners were forced to wear in Nazi concentration camps.
