Biographical Note

An avid collector of (Lincolniana) memorabilia associated with United States President Abraham Lincoln (February 12, 1809-April 15, 1865), Johnstown native, Dr. Earl Joseph Hunt (August 1, 1928-July 9, 2008) was an optometrist who spent more than four decades compiling the contents of his Abraham Lincoln memorabilia collection, which he personally donated to the IUP Special Collections and University Archives.

Dr. Hunt was born in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, and his parents were Joseph Earl Hunt (1897-1973) and Idella Mae Forsman Hunt (1893-1963). His sisters were Margaret Helen Hunt (1923-2002) and Kathryn Dorothy Hunt (1927-1997). He married Ann Douglass Salinger, who graduated from Indiana State Teachers College (IUP) in 1951. Dr. Hunt belonged to the First United Methodist Church and was a member of the Masonic Order.

After Dr. Hunt began his Abraham Lincoln collection with a bust (a birthday present from his sister) in 1967, he traveled the United States and Great Britain visiting historical markers and sites relating to his interest in President Abraham Lincoln memorabilia. Having displayed his Abraham Lincoln collection at various venues, including the Johnstown Flood Museum, Dr. Hunt decided to donate the collection to Indiana University of Pennsylvania (IUP). In 2004, Earl and Ann Hunt graciously donated what is considered one of the most extensive private collections of Abraham Lincoln memorabilia (Lincolniana) to the IUP Libraries, Special Collections and University Archives. In 2014, Dr. Hunt passed away in Johnstown, and his wife Ann Hunt passed away in 2014.

Scope and Content

This collection contains memorabilia, coins, signed documents, books, journals, pamphlets, Abraham Lincoln busts and statuary, drawings and lithographs related to the Civil War, commemorative plates, bottles and glassware, coins and other memorabilia that document the role of Abraham Lincoln heritage in the nation's history. Abraham Lincoln (February 12, 1809-April 15, 1865) was the 16th President of the United States (1861-1865) during the American Civil War. Most of the collection dates from the mid-20th century, but specific items and resources date back to the mid-19th century.

One item of particular importance is the Civil War presidential pardon of Samuel Oldham Bacon (1848-1902) who was pardoned by Abraham Lincoln on February 1, 1865. This item was donated in 2014 after the death of Mrs. Ann Hunt.

Provenance

The collection is from the Johnstown office and home of Dr. Earl J. Hunt. The last items in the collection were donated upon the death of Mrs. Ann S. Hunt in 2014.

Restrictions

None, the purpose of this collection is to increase the awareness of United States President Abraham Lincoln's influence on American culture.

To the President of the United States
 The undersigned citizens of Louisville most respectfully state,
 That in the Spring of 1861 one Samuel O. Bacon then a mere lad but sixteen years old was persuaded and induced as they believe by Blanton Duncan and other unprincipled and artful men to abandon his home and friends, and join the Rebels. Said Bacon remained with the Rebels until July 1863 at which time he was made a Prisoner by the Union Troops, and he remained in the Military Prison at Camp Douglass near Chicago ever since.

They say, Said Samuel has as they believe retreated the part he took against the Federal Government, that his father and relatives are loyal & unconditionally for the Union, and that said Samuel would if allowed to take the Oath of Allegiance and set at liberty, hereafter be a peaceable and law-abiding citizen. He was very young and easily excited when he joined the rebels and they therefore pray that he be set at liberty and allowed to return to his father and believe the interest of the Federal Government would not be prejudiced by liberating him in his case.

Respectfully
 Over

Mr. Samuel O. Bacon will take the amnesty oath as proposed, by the President. I think the public interests would not be injured by his being given Prison as proposed for in his position.

I am opposed to any effort of this sort ordinarily, but if indulged in as suggested, this seems to be wiser, calling for it.

Wm. P. Henry, Secy of Comm. & Dis. Ky.

The father of the youth is one of the best Union men in this city, active, zealous, intelligent and efficient. He has the name of my dearest friends, & for these reasons I vote my vote in favor of the petition.

J. S. Bell
 Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives.

remained in the Military Prison at Camp Douglass near Chicago ever since.

Said Samuel has as they believe retreated the part he took against the Federal Government, that his father and relatives are loyal & unconditionally for the Union, and that said Samuel would if allowed to take the Oath of Allegiance and set at liberty, hereafter be a peaceable and law-abiding citizen. I know Sam. O. Bacon's father. He is a true loyal man. I do not know the youth. For the Father's sake I earnestly ask the release of the son.

James Speed

Let this man take the oath of Dec. 8, 1863 & be discharged.

A. Lincoln

 That in the Spring of 1861 one Samuel O. Bacon then a mere lad but sixteen years old was persuaded and induced as they believe by Blanton Duncan and other unprincipled and artful men to abandon his home and friends, and join the Rebels. Said Bacon remained with the Rebels until July 1863 at which time he was made a Prisoner by the Union Troops, and he's remained in the Military Prison at Camp Douglass near Chicago ever since.

They [say?] said Samuel has as they believe [retreated?] the part he took against the Federal Government, that his father and relatives are Loyal and unconditionally for the Union, and that said Samuel would if allowed to take the Oath of Allegiance and set at Liberty, hereafter be a peaceable and law-abiding citizen. He was very young and easily excited when he joined the rebels and they thereafter pray that he be set at liberty and allowed to return to his father and believe the interest of the Federal Government would not be prejudiced by [liberty?] in his case.

Respectfully,
R.U. [Ruesseau?]

If Samuel O. Bacon will take the amnesty oath as prescribed by the President, I think the public interests would not be injured by his release from Prison as prayed for in his petition.

I am opposed to any effort of this sort ordinarily, but if indulgence is ever granted, this seems to be a case calling for it.

The father of this youth is one of the best Union men in this city, active, zealous, intelligent and efficient. His mother was one of my dearest friends, & for these reasons I violate my rule by joining in this petition

I know Sam O. Bacon's father. He is a true and loyal man. I do not know the youth. For the Father's sake I earnestly ask the release of the son.
